Bisbee, Ariz., May 4.—Since the Sunday game Bisbee is satisfied and so is everybody else on the circuit. An even break was looked for all around, although some predicted that Cananea would take two games from Harbuck's Huskies. From all accounts, however, the Pass Town bunch gave Cananea something of a showing up in that opening game Saturday and Gray proved himself some twirler.

Hand it to O'Donovan, however, for landing a valuable man in pitcher Eli Gates. He didn't seem to be exerting himself in the least on Sunday, and made the statement after the Sunday game that he didn't know he'd gone through nine innings. However, there's hopes yet, for the best of them get it handed over once in awhile.

The big feature of Sunday's game is being argued. It is whether Redford's hit down the first base line in the eighth inning was fair or foul. Home fans are equally divided. Those who stood along the first base line say it was foul, while those in the third base bleachers say it was fair, and cut the first sack before rolling foul. Douglas's official scorer says he saw it cut first and claims Redford was cheated out of a home run. The Bisbee scorer did not see the ball until it was a few feet back of first. Then it was two feet foul.

Bisbee's lineup is now complete for the season. Van on first, Graham at second and McCarthy at short are certainties. At third there are two good men to fight it out, Homer Plake and Louis Lamar. At present it's a toss up. The outfield will be Kelly in left, Dalrymple in center and Deakins in right.

Douglas, however, has raised an awful howl; accused Goyheneix of being crooked and wants him fired from the league. Jack, however, isn't worrying over the job and the Douglas bunch has probably recovered from its wrath by this time. Cananea thinks he's the whole show and he looks good enough to Bisbee to stick around a spell.

"I'm not infallible," said Goyheneix after the game. "We all make mistakes. I don't pretend to be always correct on balls and strikes, or even decisions on the field, but I give my decisions according to best judgment. I don't enjoy being called a 'crook,' however, every time a decision may not look right. I try to be fair with everybody. That's what I'm paid for. I wish the people would do as well by me."

Truly, an umpire's life is a hard one. According to advices from Cananea, Woods did not make good, and Vic Walling is now going to give Mackay a chance on the job as umpire. If it isn't Mackay there are two other good ones who might take up the task. They are Ramon Armendariz, of Cananea, and Billy Graham, of Bisbee. Jimmy Kerwin, second baseman and outfielder with the Maroons until he quit last week, is also after the job, and has written to Walling regarding his chances.

Pitcher Ben Fehrman, released over two weeks ago from the Maroons by manager Dal, has gone to Cananea. He was sent for by Walling and asked to report immediately. If Fehrman shows up like his friends here think he can, he's secured a berth with the Maroons for the season. His release by the local management caused much dissatisfaction, fans claiming he wasn't given the proper opportunity. They're all pulling for him to stick with Cananea.

Louis Lamar, late of El Paso, showed up well in Sunday's game, his first appearance in the home lot. His four assists to first were on hard chances. The wind was responsible for one of his two errors. While he didn't get a hit he got on twice, being hit by the pitcher and drawing a base on balls. He scored on the latter when Doan hit for two bases.

In the two opening games not a single base was stolen. "Pink" Grinde turned back four in Sunday's game alone. Saturday nobody took a chance on his arm. LeBrand whipped out the only Bisbee man who tried to pilfer Sunday. The day before nobody tried. It wasn't necessary.

McCarthy and Van, who made their initial appearance in the openers, have sure won homes with the local bugs. Graham, shifted from third to second, played his same consistent game, and those three turned off several sensational double plays in both games.

Clarence Marshall, the elongated twirler, late of the Three I league, had a fine chance to test his running qualities about 4 o'clock Monday morning. He certainly made good use of them. Justice Murphy, secretary of the ball club, was to marry a Slavonian couple, according to their desire, at daylight. They lived out in the Sulphur Springs valley about 25 miles from Bisbee. He asked Marshall to take the drive with him.

Now, the Slavonians are great devotees of dynamite, firecrackers, rifles and revolvers in celebrating a wedding. This, however, "Silvers" didn't know. Neither did Justice Murphy put him wise. When they came within sight of their destination, the Slavonians proceeded to turn loose a salute to the judge. It consisted of several volleys of rifle and revolver shots, relieved by dynamite discharges.

Marshall's wife bulged nearly out of his head when the fusillade started. He vaulted over the side of the buggy and started to run for the sage brush. "Come on, judge," he howled. "It's Indians. They're after us. Turn the horse around and beat it."

The judge didn't, but Marshall kept on going. He failed to come back after the judge howled that it was all right. After performing the ceremony, he found Marshall, disheveled and hatless, about six miles from the scene of festivities, and assisted him home.

GLOBE WINS GAME.
Solomonville, Ariz., May 4.—The Globe team, by a score of 7 to 5, won the baseball game from a picked team from the valley. The game was played at Solon.

Intrepid Frenchman Tells of His Flight from London to Manchester.

London, Eng., May 4.—Louis Paulhan, the Frenchman who won the prize of $50,000 for making the flight from London to Manchester, has written his account of his experience, and says he flew part of the way in the rain and had a very narrow escape from death when his fuel gave out on him and the engine stopped in midair.

"I had to fight the wind all the way from London to Litchfield. Not a moment's rest came to me in the battle against the gusts," he says. "My altitude chart showed that I made rises and dips as much as 320 feet, always with the object of flying in the steadiest level of air I could find."

"It was cold, very cold, indeed, and the wind bit my face. Fortunately my eyes do not suffer while I am flying, though they begin to burn terribly when I come down to earth again. I have had to bathe them steadily since my descent to relieve the smarting."

"A pelting rainstorm lashed me for 29 minutes while in the neighborhood of Rugby. Fortunately, I am not unused to flying in the rain, therefore, although it was uncomfortable, it had no effect upon my flight. I kept on at a steady pace, although the altitude varied remarkably."

"On nearing Litchfield, I decided to descend close to a brewery. Suddenly my motor stopped. Every drop of petrol was exhausted and the machine swooped downward almost like a stone dropping.

"What should I do? Beneath me was the brewery and certain smash was behind me. There was a narrow field which looked almost like a spider's web through a mass of telegraph wires."

"I had the imperceptible fraction of a second in which to make up my mind and I decided to risk the telegraph wires. As I sank I made a sharp twist right back on the line of my course and was lucky enough to lift myself over the wires."

Started From Small Field.

His greatest difficulty on the flight was the restart. He says:

"The field was only 120 yards long and narrow, and there was a nasty hedge to surmount at the end of it. Collision with the hedge would have been disastrous. Happily, favored with the head wind I was then facing, though it was a following wind for my flight, I rose above the hedge without difficulty, turned and headed straight for Manchester."

"Here was an end of my concern about the issue of the race. Barring accidents I was bound to reach Manchester in safety and good time, and there was no reason to anticipate an accident, for I had surmounted the worst of my difficulties, that of a rise from the field."

Twice on the way from Litchfield to Manchester Paulhan lost the trail and had to circle back to recover it. He carried 14 gallons of petrol on the first stage of his flight, and 12 gallons on the second.

Bingles and Bunts

By CAB

El Paso now has a new special delivery sort of pitching staff, three of the best procurable.

Harben ought to take off some of that fat; he is getting a bit fleshy and fat men lose their wind.

Cananea is coming back to play Saturday and Sunday. We have three good slab artists now, so the copperitis bunch had best beware.

The management at the park is evidently afraid the fence will fall down if the gates are opened as they should be.

It is El Paso against the soldiers Wednesday, and a good game will be the result.

Ducky Gowan is still in the swiftest class, for Ducky is there with the big stick.

Wylie will be greatly missed on the coaching line; he makes lots of fun for the fans.

It is reported that Mills is coming homeward. Well, come along, old boy; there is a welcome waiting.

All of the boys look as if they had been well treated on their recent trip. It looks like a warm season on the local diamond with the team being strengthened each day. Harbuck has a chance to win a home.

Now that the merchants and school boys are getting into the game, El Paso will be the haven of fans.

It is back to the Woods for the new umpire; he didn't care much about the job and the job was not very fond of him, so both sides are pleased.

It sounds like music from home sweet home to hear Mackey say, "Play ball!"

What Benjamin SAYS

I don't blame Joe Sweeney for quitting the job. A man can't give the proper amount of time to baseball games and have to be mayor at the same time.

CLIFTON GRAYS ARE SOME BALL PLAYERS.

Clifton, Ariz., May 4.—The Grays have won their seventh straight game, blanking the Harry Wrights, another local amateur club, 9 to 4.

Tompleton let the Wrights down with one scratch hit. The sensational fielding of the Grays and Horton's home run drive with two on bases were the features of the game.

The score: R. H. E.
Grays ..... 9 14 0
Wright ..... 0 1 3
Batteries—Grays, Tompleton and Kibby; Wright, Wright, Domatz and Cano.

The Art of Keeping Cool

Here are three good "hot weather" rules. Don't worry don't hurry and wear our Tropical Weight Clothes.

There is no need to swelter in hot, stuffy garments when you can be comfortable in clothes that practically defy the heat.

Do you want to dress up your boys? Bring them to us, we'll dress them in the same high grade suits and furnishings as in our Men's Department.

Teach the Children to Save

It is the duty of every parent to teach their children to save and the best time is when they are young. A few pennies put away each day or week will give them a nice little start when they go out to fight the battles of the world.

It would only take a little money each week, if you begin saving now, to have enough money to send the little tots of today to some good college after they have finished the school work at home.

Get a Saving Bank. They are FREE and start the children to saving. We appreciate your business no matter how small and we pay 4% ON SAVING DEPOSITS.
